FOREWORD

Throughout our high school years we have been passengers on the ship of life. Our course was chartered by a host of captains, and our duties were carefully scheduled. We were safely carried through storm and raging waters, confident of our course. As spectators of the struggle for survival, we learned of the perils of running aground on the shoals of indolence and were taught to ride the waves of incident that threaten to overwhelm us. Now our apprenticeship is over, and each must navigate his own vessel and chart his own course. Wherever that course may lead, the knowledge and skill inculcated to us by our teachers and parents will be our compass, and the stars will be our goal.

ENGLISH

The English Department has aided us probably more than any other in our quest for knowledge. From our freshman grammar texts to our senior English Literature anthologies, they have led us from dangling participles to "The Canterbury Tales." All four years, each of us has sat in an English class, motivated by an instructor. As we step out to face the world, we will remember the assistance, encouragement, and kindness of all the English teachers.

CLASS HISTORY

As we embarked in the fall of 1961, we were somewhat awed by the vastness of our course but still determined to make the Class of 1965 rank among the best. Aboard, we selected Robert Starck as President; the Vice-presidential task went to Susan Hinckley. Paula Campbell was elected Secretary, and Stephen Donald served as Treasurer. First mate duties on the student council were managed by Charles MacEacheron. We were navigated by our advisor, Mr. Peter Barca. Many members of our crew joined junior varsity sport squads and various clubs, while the whole class was subjected to course selections and standardized tests.

Returning to sea after the summer months, old friendships were revived and new ones made. We again elected Robert Starck as President, but chose Charles MacEacheron as our Vice-president. Patricia Doyle kept the log while our financial affairs were handled by Patricia Wiinikainen. Representing us in the student council were Judy Hely and Victor Morris. Mr. Barca continued as our navigator. Irene Aylmer, Janet Marvin, Mary Shields, and Beverly Smith were elected to the Code Club. Introduced into the Key Club were Richard Gallagher, Ronald Coville, Steven Adams, Kenneth Lebo, William Howes, Robert Starck, Steven Tellegen, and Charles MacEacheron.

We were proud of the students who brought honor not only to Barnstable High School, but also to our class in the annual Speech Festival. Everyone enjoyed the plays which the Drama Club presented, and we in particular felt a special pride since many of our crew participated. Three outstanding crewmen, Audrey Pigott, Robert Sturges, and Victor Morris were elected to the National Honor Society. They were a great source of pride to our swift moving ship. Our previously remote destination was becoming a close reality.

Boarding for the third time, we felt proud as we had finally reached an all important milestone; that of upperclassmen. Faces on deck were now familiar. Charles MacEacheron was elected to the Presidency. Paul MacPhee handled the Vice Presidential tasks, and Patricia Doyle was re-elected to keep the log. Joan Stackhouse served as Treasurer. Mr. Connor assumed the helm as our class advisor. Susan Johnson and Diana Warburton joined the Code Club. Les Harmon became a member of the Key Club. Many of our crew were now established in varsity sports.

"Moonlight and Roses," which was assisted by Miss Nehubian, was the social event of the year. A large crowd danced amidst the beautiful decorations. Patricia Wiinikainen was chosen Queen with Bonnie Farrenkopf, Sharyn Dorr, Judy Perry, and Sandy Sheets serving as her court. It was both a wonderful and most memorable Junior Prom. With three quarters of the journey completed, we began to anticipate the fall when we would embark for our final voyage.

Elected to the office of President was Charles MacEacheron. Serving as Vice-president was Ronald Coville. Patricia Doyle and Joan Stackhouse were re-elected to their offices. Serving on the student council were Mary Shields, Susan Melody, Steven Donald, Susan Shields, Allan Buckler, Garry Leppanen, and Victor Morris.

Mr. Richard Cressy served as our class advisor. Initiated into Code Club were Audrey Pigott, Karen Dempsey, and Lynne Mulvey. Richard Parmenter, Carl Wirtanen, and Dennis Marchant were elected to join the Key Club. Betsy Grayson and Donna Lang were selected as Key Club Sweethearts. Susan Johnson was nominated for the D.A.R. award.

We tackled the task of logging all our memories. Elected to the bridge was Robert Sturges as Editor of the Barnacle. Mr. Robert Goodwin served ably as our advisor. As this Barnacle goes to press, everyone on ship is looking forward to the Senior Prom, the Banquet, and graduation.

Now, as our ship pulls into its mooring, we will disembark separately. We will never forget our four years at Barnstable High School, the helpful guidance of the entire faculty and the co-operation of the administration.

Let us all board our own ships and take the helm.

The Society's objects are to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote leadership, and to encourage the development of character in the students of BHS.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The purpose of American education, as expressed by our greatest men, is to create individuals capable of governing themselves well through a democratic system. The Student Council was formed to establish a means by which students learn the true practice of loyalty and fidelity complemented with an intelligent understanding of democracy. It presents an opportunity to those possessing initiative and leadership to develop their abilities and talents while still in their formative years. The high standards maintained by its members are reflected in all other school organizations. The Student Council governs in not the capacity of the authority resting in the faculty but with the harmonizing influence which enables the student body to cooperate for the common good.

Collecting tickets at the basketball games and assisting with work in and about the school are only two of its memorable services.

Mr. Arnold Rogean acts as faculty advisor in directing this worthwhile activity.

CODE CLUB

The Code Club is a service organization sponsored by the Rotary-Club of Hyannis. Its objects are to help the school, community, country, and world. Its motto is "Service above self." The letters in "Code" stand for cooperation, obedience, duty, and endeavor.

The officers of the Code Club for the past year have been Irene Aylmer, president; Susan Johnson, vice-president; Sandra Brito, secretary; and Diana Warburton, treasurer. Miss Helen Jones is our advisor.

Our activities this year have included the paperback bookshelf, selling tickets and programs at home games, collecting for Care and Project Hope, co-sponsoring the Spring Music Festival, and, with the assistance of the business department, addressing 8,100 envelopes for the local Kennedy Memorial Fund. In addition, the Code Club has recently set up a scholarship fund from which a senior girl is given a scholarship of $150 annually.

LAYOUT STAFF

As the last pages go to press and the staff breathes a sigh of relief, the editor pauses to take account of the labors and discern how it was finished on time.

Without the staff members who survived the emergency meetings, the deadline rushes, both the editor and faculty advisor's jittery nerves and worried meetings, this book would not be in the reader's hands. So thanks, members — for the many unpaid hours you spent planning pictures and layout, typing and drawing up pages. Our photographer supplied amusement, some harassment and numerous quality pictures.

Mr. Robert Goodwin deserves recognition for his guidance and patience with the procrastinators and "El Goofos" along the road.

To the students and faculty members who posed for us, we thank you. We appreciate the endurance of photo sittings, scheduling of group pictures, occasional missed appointments, and other inconveniences necessary in the course of our Senior year.

It is the editor's hope that these people will be satisfied with the 1965 Barnacle, since their efforts have made this yearbook what it is.

The school newspaper, the Raider Reader, covers the affairs of B.H.S. The aims of this medium are two-fold; to unite the entire student body in a bond of mutual interest and to encourage mature journalistic potentialities. This year the monthly publications are under the competent advisorship of Mr. Russell Fales.

DRAMA

The Drama Club, under the direction of Mr. Charles Howes, is one of the most active and popular clubs at B.H.S. Its members attend weekly meetings and rehearsals for their productions. Interested students are given expert coaching and equal opportunities for leading roles. The Drama Club presents plays of quality for both B.H.S. and the public.

n, D. Cary, M. George, S. Sherman, K. Harbert, L. Buckler, Mr. Charles Howes.

SPEECH

To speak is a human right; to conform to procedure and respectable language is a law of public speaking. It affords the participants many benefits. The intellectual values provided by this activity are a confident speaking technique, knowledge of current problems, logical and deductive reasoning, and the ability to analyze a situation. The success attained for the past several years by our fellow students can be readily attributed to the efforts of Mr. Richard Warren.

FIRST ROW: L. Pukki, S. Melody, D. Carchrie, L. Leonard, G. Carr, J. Leonard, B. Grayson, S. Morrison, V. Cloud. SECOND ROW: D. Cary, P. Sunderman, M. Handler, K. Sullivan, W. Howes, R. Cohen, J. Stackhouse, J. Nelson, Mr. Warren. THIRD ROW: W. Kennedy, J. Goode, R. Sidall, J. Barrows, B. Butkus, W. Schmidt.

SENIOR CHORUS

The Senior Girls' Chorus portion of the Christmas Assembly was the culmination of endless weeks of work which began early in the fall. As a member, I know of the work and the effort. I have seen a broad grin spread over Mr. Gesin's face as he slowly takes off and folds his sports jacket. This act is a surer sign of work than any amount of talk.

We have seen the polished results of many hours of practice at the football games, concerts, and Class Day. Exchange concerts between musical organizations in different parts of Southeastern Massachusetts have long been a feature of the various activities of the Music Department. Under the direction and inspiration of Mr. Ronald Brown, our band has improved consistently each year.

It happens every year. Our band plays and suddenly there is a burst of applause — our majorettes enter the scene. Wherever they go, it seems that they receive an equally powerful reception. Perhaps it is their precision or twirling ability; however, it may be something else.

DRILL TEAM

Drill Team

Our drill team, under the apt direction of Miss Katherine Nehubian, has again displayed the school colors at halftime and many parades. With four flagbearers, two banner girls, and four marshals, the seventy-two drill team members are both indicative of the spirit at BHS and an excellent complement to anything they have participated in.

CHEERLEADERS

BACK: M. Hiller, D. Morin, P. Lopes, M. Morin, L. Francisco. SECOND: D. Mazzei, P. Sunderman. THIRD: B. Grayson, F. Sweeney. FRONT: M. George.

Cheerleaders

After their wonderful support of the athletic events this year, our cheerleaders certainly deserve a cheer from the students and members of the various teams. If the cheerleaders claim some of their credit for our victories, they certainly are entitled to it. We think that the teams would back us on that score.

MOONLIGHT

AND

ROSES

In retrospect the Seniors nostalgically remember their Junior Prom. No one who attended this social highlight at the Mill Hill Club will forget that memorable event. Dancing silhouettes gracefully glided among the Class of '65. This was a night of fun and merriment for the Seniors and their guests and a pleasant rest from studies and tests.

Regina Murphy, Queen Sharyn Dorr, Linda Pukki.

Our senior prom attracted a large turnout despite the piling white wintry elements. The snow, however, failed to dampen anyone's spirit. The Four Aces selected Sharyn Dorr as queen with a court of Linda Pukki and Regina Murphy. For their unflagging efforts our advisor, Mr. Cressy, and the senior prom committee were certainly rewarded as Candyland was a great success.

FOOTBALL

No. 40, Robert Bassett, carrying for Barnstable.

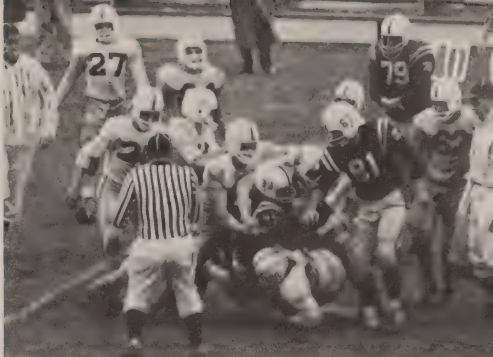

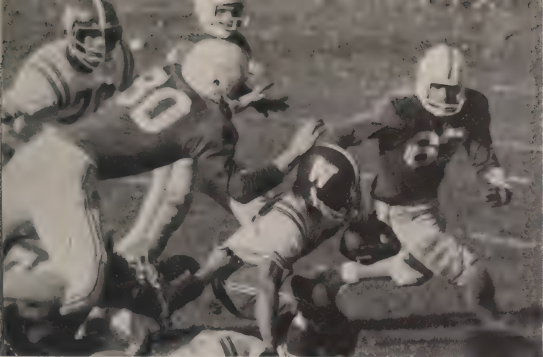

The B.H.S. football team this season was coached by Mr. Richard Lasse. The team elected Bob Starck as captain. Together they inspired school spirit and determination in our team, which played some very exciting football. Barnstable was represented on the All-Cape team by end Steve Adams. Whether playing on a perfect field or in mud under a driving rain, our football team was always striving for victory.

Unlike the heroic boys who need a cheering section in back of them to win a game, the hockey team gets along excellently with little enough school support. This could be attributed to the fact that they have a cheering section built into the team. Through the efforts of Miss Nehubian, they are always turning out winning teams.

The stationary guards were Irene Aylmer and Janet Williams. Audrey Pigott and Frances Krook capably assisted the team as strong substitutes.

Not content with the job turned in last year by the hockey team, the pucksters went on to another great season this year. Responsible for the excellence of the team is a combination of factors which include rising early weekends to practice, using the knowledge and guidance of Coach MacSwan to its best advantage, and taking advantage of the spirit and ability of a winning team.

Phil Souza led the team as captain and Chuck MacEacheron served as assistant captain.

HOCKEY

TRACK

Upon visiting the B.H.S. athletic fields on any spring afternoon, one would certainly see the members of the track team running through their vigorous paces. Our track team has several runners, each of whom will remember the countless races during practice in preparation for his event in the meet where a second's time can mean the difference. Likewise, the weight and field events draw many competitors, the jumpers and vaulters working for that extra inch and the discus, javelin, and shot put men trying hard to add to their distance. Thus from the hundred-yard dash to the pole vault to the shot put to the mile run, each athlete has a chance to show his capability and training on our track team.

FIRST: C. Montagna, K. Pooler, J. Jones. SECOND: D. West, S. Brito, C. Long. THIRD: Y. Monteiro, J. Liimatainen, F. Krook.

SOFTBALL

The girls' softball team, as all the girls' teams, is to be congratulated for its record of excellence this year. The spirit and enthusiasm of this team in its games were unsurpassable. Led by Miss Katherine Nehubian, the girls continually displayed their ability and dexterity in softball!

BASEBALL

Once again the famous American battlecry of "play ball" is heard as the varsity baseball team invades the field. Barnstable has one of the strongest infields in the league and a powerful offensive punch. Coach Gleason always does an excellent job in welding nine men into a single unit which is so often unbeatable. He'll do it again this year.

TENNIS

Under the direction of Mr. Eldon Lawson, the tennis program is open to all students. Although the team has been defeated several times, everyone has a chance to test his skill in less challenging intramural matches. The Spring afternoons provide fun for winners and losers alike.

KNEELING: B. Smith, A. Buckler, E. Kelly, M. Chase, C. Salo, M. Bearse. SITTING: D. Warburton, P. Bearse, S. Johnson, I. Alymer. STANDING: M. VanLeeuwen, K. Dempsey, A. Pigott, M. Cole, D. Carchrie. STAIRS: E. Cary, J. Perry, S. Oehme, M. George, S. Stranius, P. Sunderman, J. Williams, J. Hely, J. LeGrand.

GOLF

Les Harmon, Ronald Coville, Steve Tellegen, James Karathanasis.

Although some people do not appreciate the art of knocking a little white ball into a hole in the ground, it is very difficult to attain true proficiency in the sport of golf. The members of the golf team have become quite expert at their chosen sport, under the competent leadership of Mr. Rogean.

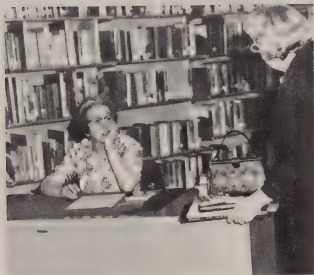

"Deadline! Tomorrow?"

"Want some advice, boys? — Let's start again."

"Shouldn't we have taken a right back there, Mr. Brown?"

"You Clamdigger!"

"Tunafish — again?"

"Let's not get caught this time."

"Let it roll, Diana."

"1:55 and almost free."

"Let's get those bugs out of Grandma's racer."

"Rally 'round the mike, boys!"

"No she'll never notice that!"

"20,000 paper clips and I'm almost there."

"Watch it!"

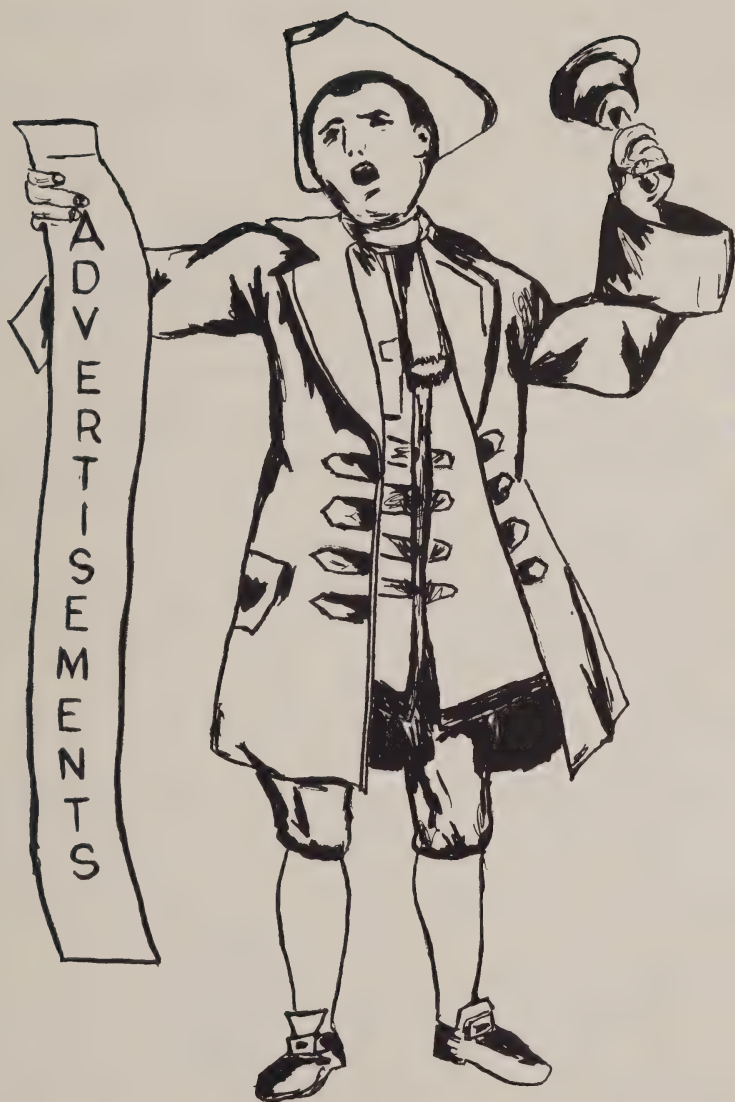

"What difference will a few grams make ,anyway?"

"Mr. Howes, you're interrupting!"
